DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed with an amendment on 21 January 2005 have been fully considered but they are moot in view of the following new basis of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 5, 6 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The phrase "response enabling tools" (emphasis added) lacks antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102 and 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Payne et al. (US005715314A).
6. Payne et al. teaches (independent claim 1) a method for providing one or more advertising messages, which reads on alerts, over a network, the method comprising the steps of: composing one or more alert messages/advertisements which are sent to alert database/advertisement database 18 (col. 2 line 67 to col. 3 line 3 and col. 4 lines 52-54); using the network 10, which reads on using network links, for gathering a plurality of reaction enabling tools (a result of one or more searches – computer 20 must search database 18 for the ad, which reads on a document with relevant data), for a user to use in a collaborative manner (i.e., collaborating with the Fig. 1 sales system) to respond to the respective alert (i.e., to buy something suggested by the ad, col. 5 lines 27-28); using data extracted from the alert database/advertisement database 18, to dispatch the alert messages and corresponding reaction enabling tools to one or more of the clients over the network (col. 4 lines 60-63), the alert messages and corresponding reaction enabling tools that allow contact with the facilities useful in responding to the alert (again, the user buying something online, col. 5 lines 27-28).

7. Payne et al. also teaches at the citations given above claims 2, 3, 5, 6, 8, 10-13, and claim 14, where the community of interest is the users of the WWW.
8. Payne et al. also teaches claim 4 (col. 5 line 17, where the user request reads on a human decision); claim 7, where the shopping cart database 21 and the settlement database 22 (col. 5 lines 5-15) read on databases of client information, and claim 9, where the contents of the shopping cart database 21 read on a set of preferences of each user.

Conclusion

9. The references made of record and not relied upon are considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Call (US006154738A) teaches some features of the instant invention.
